HITS BOROUGHS HARD

No Penalties Provided for Infraction of Health Rules by Plumbers.

That borough health boards only have power to inspect plumbing work in sewer and drain pipe connections, whereas, prior to the act of June 12, 1913, they could make and enforce drastic rules, with provisions for punishment when such rules were broken, was the decision of Judge Ambrose B. Reid, in common pleas court in Allegheny county Saturday.

R. B. Hutchinson, appealed from a fine of $10, imposed by the borough of Wilkinsburg, because he did not take out a permit or employ a plumber to place certain pipes according to the borough ordinances.

Judge Reid held that the act of 1913 wipes out rules, regulations and ordinances under which boroughs have been working because it repeals the acts of 1893 and 1895. The new law simply provides for inspection, and if the new work constitutes a nuisance, it provides for its abatement. All boroughs in Pennsylvania are affected by the decision.

WILSON CONDEMNS FOREIGN ALLIANCES

Makes Declaration at Unveiling of Barry Monument.

Washington, May 18.—Men and women of Irish birth and descent from all over the country joined with the president of the United States, members of the senate and the house of representatives and other dignitaries in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue erected to John Barry, "the father of the American navy." Congress adjourned to enable the senators and representatives to be present.

President Wilson in his address made no direct reference to any pending question, but his insistence that Barry's "heart had crossed the Atlantic with him" and that "when the whole man has come over the hyphen drops of its own weight out of his name," an obvious reference to the term "Irish-American," was interpreted as applying to the action of Irish societies in this country in protesting against the repeal of the free tolls section of the Panama canal act.

"This man," said the president, "was not an Irish-American; he was an Irishman who became an American. And that is my infallible test of a genuine American—that when he votes or when he acts or when he fights his heart and his thoughts are nowhere but in the center of the emotions and the purposes and policies of the United States."

That the Wilson administration will make no compact with the European governments to pacify Mexico was the deduction to be drawn from another portion of the president's address.

NO REPORT ON FATE OF PARKS

United States Still Awaiting Word From Dictator.

CONSUL SILLIMAN IS SAFE.

Only Answer to Demand For Facts Is Message to Spanish Minister In Washington Saying an Inquiry Will Be Made by Huerta.

Washington, May 18.—Secretary Bryan said he had received no reply to the demand made on General Huerta that he present this government with a full report on the fate or whereabouts of Private Samuel Parks, who is reported to have been shot without trial by Mexican troops.

All that Washington has heard in answer to the state department's demand came from Senor Riano, Spanish ambassador at Washington, who received from the Mexican minister of foreign affairs word that the investigation would be begun at once.

The latest advices concerning Parks reached the department through the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, who reported he was "reliably informed" that the American soldier had been shot without trial.

Ambassador Da Gama also informed Mr. Bryan that, according to an investigation made by the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, Private Parks was executed by the troops of General Maas' command without the semblance of a trial.

When asked to detail the precise nature of his demand on Huerta Mr. Bryan said, "The demand was an urgent one, and the word urgent needs no qualification in diplomatic transactions."

Certain Parks Was Killed.

His statement was interpreted to mean that the state department is now satisfied that Parks was killed, as the war department has been for several days, and that he proposed to compel Huerta to explain the facts.

The department has been expecting a report from General Huerta, coupled with a full apology and an offer to punish the murderers and make reparation in any other way possible.

Since the first report of the barbarous murder of Parks reached Washington Secretary Garrison has maintained the position that this government should act and act quickly in order that the murderers might not escape.

Mr. Bryan has used his influence to thwart such a movement. He has urged the president to go slowly in the matter because of his fear that any overt act against Huerta at this time would put an end to the mediation plans.

The state department received further confirmation of the report made by the Brazilian minister at Mexico City that John R. Silliman, the American consul at Saltillo, is en route to Mexico City under guard of a federal detachment.

The alarmist reports concerning Silliman and especially those purporting to contain information that his life was in danger have never been accepted at their face value in official circles.

Mr. Silliman has a large plantation near Saltillo, and information has reached Washington that he had no desire to leave his property, because he was satisfied that he could remain in safety.

GIANINI'S MIND WEAK.

So Says Father, Testifying For Boy Charged With Murder.

Herkimer, N. Y., May 18.—Charles A. Gianini, father of Jean Gianini, the boy who is on trial for the murder of his teacher, Miss Lida Beecher, testified that his son was a victim of vicious habits and mentally weak. The knife with which it is alleged Jean committed the murder the father identified as one he had given to the boy four or five months before the tragedy.

Dr. Charles T. Weeks of New York, who attended Mrs. Gianini at the time of Jean's birth, testified that the mother was nervous and melancholy and the child under weight and emaciated. A copy of the certificate of the death of Mrs. Gianini showed that she died of alcoholic meningitis.

SAYS ROOSEVELT WON'T RUN

Lucien Bonheur's Version of the Colonel's Plans.

Paris, May 18.—Lucien Bonheur of New York, who is visiting here, is an intimate friend of Colonel Roosevelt.

He says that he has received word from a trustworthy source, although he refuses to say whether it is from the colonel himself, that the colonel positively will not be a candidate for the governorship of New York nor enter into any discussion concerning a possible candidate, but will do his best to see his views incorporated into the platform of the Progressive candidate.

COLORADO MUST CLEAR UP STRIKE

Wilson Criticises Governor Ammons and Legislature.

ASKS FOR PEACE IN MINES

Federal Troops, He Says, Cannot Assume Indefinite Responsibility For Maintaining Order—Not to Reopen Mines Until Tranquility Prevails.

Washington, May 18.—Governor Ammons, the state legislature and the people of Colorado were severely reprimanded by President Wilson in a telegram addressed to Governor Ammons.

The president issued his reprimand following the receipt of advices to the reply that the legislature of Colorado was about to adjourn without taking any action looking to the maintenance of order in the strike regions of that state. The president sent the following telegram to Governor Ammons:

"Am disturbed to hear of the probability of the adjournment of your legislature and feel bound to remind you that my constitutional obligations with regard to the maintenance of order in Colorado are not to be indefinitely continued by the inaction of the state legislature. The federal forces are there only until the state of Colorado has time and opportunity to resume complete sovereignty and control in the matter. I cannot conceive that the state is willing to forego her sovereignty or to throw herself entirely upon the government of the United States, and I am quite clear that she has no constitutional rights to do so when it is within the power of her legislature to take effective action."

Legislature Must Act.

President Wilson did not confer with any of his advisers before sending the foregoing warning to Coloradans. He got the word that the legislature was about to adjourn and without hesitation wired Governor Ammons. Then he conferred with Secretary of War Garrison, with the result that the federal government will not send any additional troops to Colorado, and the president will insist that the legislature take action in the premises.

The commanding officers of the federal troops in Colorado will receive instructions not to allow any mines to be reopened until complete tranquility prevails and all danger of any new outbreaks is past. The federal authorities refuse to take the responsibility for further fighting between the miners and the mine guards and militia.

President Wilson, it is given out, felt that Colorado is trying to force the United States to compel the mine owners and operators to arbitrate their troubles, but no special efforts will be made by the federal authorities to do so. Steps are now in progress to bring about conciliation, but unless Colorado does its share toward restoring order the federal authorities will withdraw entirely, according to the president's advisers.

Judge Harvey W. Whitehead, of Williamsport, arrived in town this morning and is assisting Judge Bell in civil court, hearing causes in which Judge Bell was interested as attorney before his election to the bench.

P. railroad for damages sustained through fires alleged to have been started on their premises near Curwensville by sparks from the engines of the defendant company. There are three of these suits.

The jurors visited the scene of the fire this afternoon.

In Judge Bell's court the case of Lena Lane vs. Sandy township was the first attacked.

THEY WANT PENROSE

His Defeat Would Make Pennsylvania a Dry State.

"We are against local option, prohibition and club licenses. Senator Penrose is the only candidate for United States senator who has declared against such measures."

These words conclude a four-page frantic appeal to Pennsylvania Germans to vote for Penrose at Tuesday's primary. The circular further says that all who speak Pennsylvania German, whether Republicans, Democrats, Progressives or Socialists, should stick together and fight for personal freedom.

Especial stress is laid on the fact that if Penrose and a legislature opposed to prohibition is not elected, it is only a question of a year or two when the whole state will be "dry."

The circular printed in Pennsylvania German, is issued under the caption of the "German-American Alliance of Pennsylvania."

PLANNING FOR THE 1914 CHAUTAUQUA

Clearfield Committee Will Meet to Reorganize This Week

One of the plans for Chautauqua during the coming summer, when it reaches here, according to A. H. Woodward chairman of local committee, is to decorate the big tent with pennants representing each of the 160 towns on the summer Chautauqua circuits.

All winter the Chautauqua association has been writing to the local committeemen to secure samples of these colors. In some cases the Chautauqua found that there were no special colors for the town and had to call a meeting of the mayor, the president of the board of trade,the president of the Womens' club, and the superintendent of schools and officers of other organizations, to meet with the chairmen of the Chautauqua committee to select colors. In many instances the High school colors were adopted.

In order to carry out this plan of decorating 14 big tents with pennants representing 160 towns about 2240 pennants were manufactured on a special order.

The committee has been receiving notice as to some of the new events that will appear at Chautauqua this summer, and it is expressing great pleasure over the prospect. The public will be made acquainted with the plans for 1914 through the officers of the Clearfield Chautauqua guarantors.

Chairman Woodward states that the Chautauqua committee will meet this week to reorganize and arrange for the opening of the Chautauqua in July.

A YOUNG GIRL DISAPP[illegible]

Lillian Craddock [illegible] Home in Curwensville

MAY HAVE COMMITTED [illegible]

Last Seen of Her Was When She Was Standing on the Railroad Bridge in the Lower End of River Town—Had Been Quarrelsome For Months.

Lillian Craddock,the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton [illegible] of Curwensville, has disappeared from her home and no trace of her present whereabouts has as yet been found.

Lillian was the daughter of [illegible] and Mrs. Craddock, the mother being dead and the father [illegible] unknown. The mother died when Lillian was a small child and she was taken into the family of Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn. When Mr. Vaughn died, Mr. and Mrs. Bloom [illegible] adopted Lillian, and the girl has been living with them up until her disappeared after dinner on the afternoon of last week.

Seen on N. Y. C. Bridge.

The last person to see Lillian in Curwensville on Friday was a school girl and at that time Lillian was standing on the New York Central railroad bridge, in the lower end of the town. She told the little girl, "I may be back tonight, but I will not be back at all. They'll have a longer search for me this time than ever before."

From that time to this no trace of the girl has been found, and there is a suspicion that she jumped into the river and was drowned. The water in the river was very deep and swift at the time.

Made Diligent Search.

Clayton Bloom, as soon as he learned that the girl had gone from home started a search, which he has kept up ever since. As the circus was in Clearfield on Friday it was at first thought that Lillian had come here and joined the show, and a constable secured a search warrant, came to Clearfield and searched the circus tents without success. The homes of friends of the girl were also visited in the hope that she had been at one of them, but none of the people had seen her. Mr. C. Bloom will continue the search, and may have the river dragged after the water gets clear, while the banks on both sides will be closely watched.

Girl Had Acted Strangely.

Lillian had been acting queerly for some months .She had been away from her home upon several occasions and Mr. Bloom had to bring her up and take her home, but her former absences were not lengthy and she did not go far from home. About two months ago she became angry because her adopted father refused to permit her to go away from home to get work and she did not speak to him afterwards. She had refused to speak to her grandfather, Bishop Bloom, for a long time.

She was not a wayward child, but was discontented at home, although she was treated kindly by her foster parents.

Description of the Girl.

Lillian will be 15 years of age on January 11, 1915. She is freckled of face and about five feet, four inches in height. Her hair is brown-black. When a baby she scratched her forehead with her finger nails and left a mark which resembles either an M or N, which is plainly discernible.

When she left home Friday she wore a brown coat, the collar of which was of orange color, a common blue barred gingham dress and black shoes. She was bare headed.

Lillian may be known by three names—Lillian Vaughn, Lillian Craddock and Lillian Bloom.

Married in Elkton, Md.

Among those who went from this state to be married at Elkton, Md., last week were Charles E. Lamb, of Philadelphia, and Willa Wilson, of Clearfield.

WHY?

Why not make Clearfield the cleanest town in this part of the West Branch valley?

Good evening! Almost any evening now you can predict a frost the next morning.

VOTE YOUR CONVICTIONS.

The independent voter is convinced that there is no hope of the people coming into their own so long as the twin political machine controls the affairs of the state Under Republican rule Pennsylvania has been governed by special privilege. The people have been ignored and insulted by measures emanating from a Republican legislature. The big interests have controlled the legislature and the executive of this state, and the big interests find ready and willing agents in both the Republican and the Democratic parties.

Being convinced that it is useless to look to the two old parties to restore the government to the people, the voters should unite to defeat the candidates of both these old parties. Especially should those voters who in 1912 rallied to the cry of political reform and social and industrial justice decide to stand firmly by the candidates of the Washington party at the primaries tomorrow, both because this is the right thing to do and because it is the duty of these voters to rebuke Penroseism in both old parties by exhibiting the full strength of the forces opposed to Penroseism.

William Draper Lewis, candidate for governor, Gifford Pinchot, candidate for United States senator; A. S. Moulthrop, candidate for state senator, are sure of nomination, but they should be given such a vote as to prove to the Penrose machine managers that the Washington party means to continue its fight against special privileges, against disreputable politics, against political Bossism and against government by commission. Every man who knows that Penroseism is a menace to the liberties and welfare of the people should vote against the Republican and the Democratic candidates forthe two old parties are tarred with the same stick .

VOTE FOR THE BUDGET.

To the taxpayers of Clearfield the adoption of the budget prepared by borough council is of vast importance. Every property owner and renter knows that unless public improvements are made in Clearfield this town will retrograde Improvements cannot be made without money to pay the cost It is the desire of council that the budget be adopted by the people in order that the money needed to pave streets and do other work for the benefit of Clearfield may be procured by a bond issue.

Industrially Clearfield promises to forge ahead this summer. All of the manufactories in the town are prospering, and there is a likelihood that new industries of a substantial character will be acquired this year The people of this town are expecting to see a big business boom this summer and the municipality should be prepared to move with the procession This it cannot do unless it has the money with which to pay the bills The budget provides for the procuring of the money and if taxpayers approve the budget Clearfield will be materially improved in many ways

Any change that may be made in the fashions would be welcomed by mere man who has become weary of the modes of the past six months

Keep right on cleaning up your premises and you will be surprised that so much good could result from so small an amount of work.

Every Washington voter is expected to do his duty tomorrow.

In the meantime the trout are having a chance to grow

TO WASHINGTON VOTERS

County Chairman Barratt Issues Circular to Members of Party.

To the voters of the Washington party·

On Tuesday, May 19, the primary elections will be held, and the Washington party voters will have a chance to show that they are alive to the issues of the day by going to the polls and voting their party ticket.

The Tory press has been saying that there are only a few Washington voters left. The fact is that, while the enrollment is not what it should be, the party leaders are more enthusiastic than ever. The great commander, T R Roosevelt, has resumed his leadership of the party and will again lead our forces to victory in the coming campaign, which we will win in spite of all predictions to the contrary.

In Clearfield county we have a set of candidates above reproach and it is the duty of every voter who wishes to register his vote against the twin machine candidates to support the Washington party ticket, as that is the only way we have to make the machine leaders in both old political parties conduct themselves like honest men.

We expect every Washington party voter to do his duty next Tuesday.

JOHN W. BARRATT,
Chairman Clearfield County Washington Committee.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning scalding sensation and is very pro- irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is ery profuse fuse again, there is difficulty in voding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailment to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass o water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs whic then act normally again .

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble .

SALTILLO BATTLE TO BE DECISIVE ONE

Main Rebel Attack Is to Be From North.

Coahuila, Mexico, May 18.—All along the rebel advance line to the east and to the west of this little box car station the rebel riflemen are tuning up for the big battle of Saltillo, which is expected to open momentarily. The rebel base has been established here, only nine miles from the coveted town.

Since Thursday night the rebel artillery and cavalry have been detraining at Paredon, thirty miles north of Saltillo. The entire rebel army, numbering 20,000 men, was concentrated in Hipolite and was ordered south by train to Paredon, where the general detraining occurred, and a scouting force of 2,000 men swept the surrounding country to force all lurking federal outposts into the town.

The result of the scouting was the finding of 500 badly disorganized federals at Reata station on a forced march toward Saltillo. They are believed to have been the remnants of the Monclova garrison which evacuated before the advance of General Murgia. The Constitutionalist cavalry came upon the federals unawares, and the entire force was routed almost without a fight, for they immediately started toward Saltillo. They were cut to pieces as they ran.

After the advance base was established at Ramos Arispe, almost within cannon range of Saltillo, a few skirmishes occurred along the rebel advance line, but nothing of a serious nature. The federals seem to be pursuing their Torreon tactics of falling to oppose the rebel advance, depending upon their resistance within the town to win for them. When a party of federal scouts is located by the officers and a cavalry scouting party sent after them they retreat to the south and disappear in the foothills which surround Saltillo on the north and west.

WILSON AGAINST LABOR VIEW

To Oppose More Definite Exemption of Unions Under Trust Law.

Washington, May 18.—President Wilson will oppose the changes in the pending anti-trust bills, advocated by labor leaders, to make more explicit the exemption of labor unions from the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The subject was discussed at the White House at a conference between the president and Representatives Clayton, Webb and Carlin of the house judiciary committee. Mr. Wilson told them he agreed with them in thinking the Clayton bill, now before the house, went far enough.

The president was told that trades union members of the house were consulted before the framing of the Clayton bill and that they fully approved of its provisions at that time.

The entire subject of anti-trust legislation was gone over at the conference. The committee members told the president that after the special rule for the consideration of the bills was brought in on Tuesday little trouble was anticipated by administration supporters.

ORDERS 900 FREIGHT CARS.

Union Pacific Preparing to Move Record Winter Wheat Crop.

Omaha, Neb., May 18.—To assist in moving the biggest winter wheat crop ever produced west of the Missouri river, the Union Pacific railroad placed an order for 900 new freight cars. The cars are all steel and of a special pattern designed in the Omaha shops of the road. The contract went to a Davenport (Ia.) car building concern.

Four hundred of the new cars are of automobile type, opening at the ends, while the remaining 500 are of the regular box pattern for grain or other uses.

Points for Mothers

Playing Outdoors.

This is the time of year when the children need a great deal of watching, for they are apt to be tempted by fine days to plays that were meant for the days when the earth was warmer and the ground less damp than at present. They come in chilled, and if the chill is neglected there may be more serious trouble. Remember that the mental condition of a child has a great deal to do with his susceptibility to disease, and to scold or perhaps anger him will only make matters worse. Don't send him to bed crying, and, on the other hand, do not take too seriously his little ailments. "Let mother kiss it and make it well," the mother says to the smallest child, and generally the cure is effected. If mothers would only continue this cure after the child is a little older it might be better. Don't hurt the child's feelings by ignoring his little troubles, but make him feel that they are certain to be cured, and sometimes a dose of sugar and water or a bread pill has been known to work wonders. In the meantime do everything to make the child warm and clean and comfortable, and then if he must be scolded for getting wet or dirty let it be tomorrow, when he is not wet and dirty and in a good condition to take cold, if his mother will insist on depressing his spirits, among other things.

Play Hours.

There are other hours besides those spent in a schoolroom, other times when a child must be busy in some way, playing or just romping in an ecstasy of pure joy of living. Of course when possible out of doors is so much the best, but if windows are thrown wide open, space made for pillow fights, games of all sorts, laughing races, shouts of delight—can anything on earth be so worth while for the mother of live girls and boys? While children are gregarious and love companionship, they sometimes like to have some innate taste gratified. One may wish to copy the brilliant coloring of butterfly or blossom. Give him a box of paints and brush and he is happy. And so on through the list of likes and longings in the childish heart that every mother should study to gratify.

Cheerful Children.

Preach the gospel of cheerfulness early and late and don't encourage the morbid or emotional. Study your child and learn how to deal with him. It does no good to be unsympathetic with a child that is in a hysterical condition. Give him all your sympathy and let him feel safe and loved and cared for in your arms and then try to divert his attention from himself. Such a condition is generally a long time in approaching a crisis, and it is in the early stages that the mother can take charge with sweet cheerfulness. If treated sanely children so inclined will outgrow their morbidness, but if you attempt physical force with such a child you will probably make him sullen as well as morbid, and thrust in upon himself he will nurse his troubles and magnify your seeming indifference.

Lunches In Boxes.

There are many varieties among the lunch boxes sold in the shops. One is a flat, square box with a compartment containing a bottle of hot or cold liquids and a big compartment for sandwiches and other tidbits usual in the school lunch. Another is in the form of a camera, collapsible, so that it may be closed flat when it is not in use. There is a lunch box which looks like a music roll for small girls or larger ones. All these are covered with imitation or real leather. Then there are brown paper boxes of various sizes and shapes, strong and cheap, so that they can be replaced by new ones when they begin to look soiled or worn.

Use For Baby's "Pen."

After the baby has outgrown the use of the baby "pen" it can be used to keep a small portable heater out of reach of the baby or any older children. An oil stove that is set in the middle of one of these pens is comparatively safe. For a stationary coal stove that is close to a wall, cut one side of the pen away and then the other three sides can be put around the stove when needed. The children cannot then get at the fire.

Skipping Rope Exercises.

Skipping with a rope as young girls use it is essentially a form of dancing and lays a useful foundation for later developments which generally eventuate in the acquisition of an elegant ballroom style. Skipping rope days give the little girl her first steps in elasticity and favor the acquisition of a sinuosity and grace of movement that are by no means the least of her attractions in later life.

Convenient Pencil Sharpeners.

Provide each child with a pencil sharpener for school use. The best are the kind that screw firmly to the edge of a table. Many schools are equipped with these. The individual sharpeners that can be carried about in the pocket or bag are not always satisfactory. They have a way of becoming dulled in a very short time, and they are too cheap to be worth sharpening.

"LEFTY," DYING, ACCUSED BECKER

Widow Tells of Confession From Death House.

HELD ROSE RESPONSIBLE.

Mrs. Rosenberg Says That He Made Her Promise on the Day Before Execution That She Would Tell the Whole Truth.

New York, May 18.—"Lefty Louie" Rosenberg, who died in the electric chair on Easter Monday, April 13, for his part in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, confessed to his guilt before he died.

The confession was made to his twenty-year-old wife on the afternoon of Easter Sunday, and the condemned man named Charles Becker as the one responsible for the murder, according to the story she told a reporter. For the loss of his life he blamed equally Becker and the "squealer," Jack Rose.

"Lefty Louie" declared that only two of the men in the death house fired shots and that he was not one of them. The widow of "Lefty Louie"—who amazed the Becker defense by her testimony on the witness stand—told the whole story of the confession, much more than she was allowed to tell from the witness chair.

This is the second confession to come from the death house, and it appears to be but the forerunning news of startling revelations to come. For once there is the expectation that the death house is to yield up every secret whispered within its walls while the four gunmen and Charles Becker were there together.

May Discredit Cirofici Confession.

The confession of "Dago Frank" Cirofici was the first—and as reported it exculpated Becker. But now it is expected that Mary Cirofici, sister of "Dago Frank" will take the stand and by her testimony cloud that exoneration.

And there were secrets lodged by "Gyp the Blood" Horowitz in the breast of his young wife, and "Whitey" Lewis was visited up to the last by members of his family, who were much shaken in their calm on leaving the death house on the evening of Easter Sunday. Lillian Rosenberg went to the district attorney and offered her testimony to carry out the dying will of "Lefty Louie," and whence may come further strengthenia of the arm of the law, even the district attorney is not prepared to speculate.

His Dying Request.

"Everything that I testified to was the truth," said Mrs. Rosenberg. "I really feel sorry for Becker. But I had to tell the truth. I promised my husband that I would. It was the dying request of Louis.

"On the Sunday before my husband died he told me that Becker and Rose were responsible for his life, and I promised him I would testify to everything I had heard.

"He said that during the time Becker was with him in the death house Becker sent notes to him and the boys giving them false hopes.

"He would send the notes in a book as if lending the book to the boys to read. The keepers would not notice the notes, and Becker would always promise in these notes that the boys would get out.

"Lewis told me that he did not shoot Rosenthal. He said two of the other boys did. He told me their names, but I will not tell who they were. He said he was afraid of Becker and that's why he got the other boys to kill Rosenthal."

DEATHS OF A DAY.

Mrs. Martha Ann Wadsworth, widow of Charles D. Wadsworth and a daughter of the late William Brummel, the candy manufacturer, died at her residence, 135 Rogers avenue, Brooklyn, aged eighty-two years.

William Edward Austin, an Orange hat manufacturer, died Friday night at his home, 18 Conover terrace, Orange, N. J. He was a member of the Corinthian lodge No. 57, F. and A. M., and Hillside council Royal Arcanum of Orange.

HIGHWAYS GRAFT QUIZ.

Grand Jury to Investigate Charges Against Two Contracting Firms.

Glens Falls, N. Y., May 18.—An investigation by a grand jury of the graft charges made against the Flood and Van Wirt Construction company of Hudson Falls and the John J. Herlihy Construction company of this city in connection with the resurfacing of eighteen miles of highways in Warren county will begin Monday at Lake George. It is expected the grand jury will require about two weeks for the task, which results from investigation made by James W. Osborne.

The two companies and their bondsmen have been made defendants in actions commenced by Attorney General Carmody to recover for their failure to perform the work according to contract. The work on the two roads which is now to be investigated, was done during the Dix administration.

SERVICE RESTORED

Prompt Adjustment of TroubleCaused by Glen Campbell Fire.

On Friday morning at 3 o'clock the officers of the Huntingdon & Clearfield Telephone company were advised of the fire at Glen Campbell, and from that hour until 5 o'clock when the Glen Campbell exchange went out of business, the Clearfield office was in constant communication with the scene of the trouble. At 5 o'clock the report was that it looked as if the building in which the exchange was located would go, and, while this message was being received the equipment at Glen Campbell went out of service.

Activities were immediately begun at Clearfield by calling out the maintenance men, and at 6.30 the repair crew was on the way to Glen Campbell in the company's service car. Arriving at Glen Campbell it was found that the entire line was out for a distance of about one city block. Orders were placed for poles and other materials needed and the work of restoring the service was begun, and by working night and day the service on the Glen Campbell exchange was completely restored Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Absolutely no expense was spared in restoring the service and the employees who performed the work have reason to feel proud of the record made and the patrons of the H. & C. have reason to feel thankful that they were without service for so short a time.

HITS BOROUGHS HARD

No Penalties Provided for Infraction of Health Rules by Plumbers.

That borough health boards only have power to inspect plumbing work in sewer and drain pipe connections, whereas, prior to the act of June 12, 1913, they could make and enforce drastic rules, with provisions for punishment when such rules were broken, was the decision of Judge Ambrose B. Reid, in common pleas court in Allegheny county Saturday.

R. B. Hutchinson, appealed from a fine of $10, imposed by the borough of Wilkinsburg, because he did not take out a permit or employ a plumber to place certain pipes according to the borough ordinances.

Judge Reid held that the act of 1913 wipes out rules, regulations and ordinances under which boroughs have been working because it repeals the acts of 1893 and 1895. The new law simply provides for inspection, and if the new work constitutes a nuisance, it provides for its abatement. All boroughs in Pennsylvania are affected by the decision.

Washington, May 18.—Men and women of Irish birth and descent from all over the country joined with the president of the United States, members of the senate and the house of representatives and other dignitaries in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue erected to John Barry, "the father of the American navy." Congress adjourned to enable the senators and representatives to be present.

President Wilson in his address made no direct reference to any pending question, but his insistence that Barry's "heart had crossed the Atlantic with him" and that "when the whole man has come over the hyphen drops of its own weight out of his name," an obvious reference to the term "Irish-American," was interpreted as applying to the action of Irish societies in this country in protesting against the repeal of the free tolls section of the Panama canal act.

"This man," said the president, "was not an Irish-American; he was an Irishman who became an American. And that is my infallible test of a genuine American—that when he votes or when he acts or when he fights his heart and his thoughts are nowhere but in the center of the emotions and the purposes and policies of the United States."

That the Wilson administration will make no compact with the European governments to pacify Mexico was the deduction to be drawn from another portion of the president's address.

NO REPORT ON FATE OF PARKS

United States Still Awaiting Word From Dictator.

CONSUL SILLIMAN IS SAFE.

Only Answer to Demand For Facts Is Message to Spanish Minister In Washington Saying an Inquiry Will Be Made by Huerta.

Washington, May 18.—Secretary Bryan said he had received no reply to the demand made on General Huerta that he present this government with a full report on the fate or whereabouts of Private Samuel Parks, who is reported to have been shot without trial by Mexican troops.

All that Washington has heard in answer to the state department's demand came from Senor Riano, Spanish ambassador at Washington, who received from the Mexican minister of foreign affairs word that the investigation would be begun at once.

The latest advices concerning Parks reached the department through the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, who reported he was "reliably informed" that the American soldier had been shot without trial.

Ambassador Da Gama also informed Mr. Bryan that, according to an investigation made by the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, Private Parks was executed by the troops of General Maas' command without the semblance of a trial.

When asked to detail the precise nature of his demand on Huerta Mr. Bryan said, "The demand was an urgent one, and the word urgent needs no qualification in diplomatic transactions."

Certain Parks Was Killed.

His statement was interpreted to mean that the state department is now satisfied that Parks was killed, as the war department has been for several days, and that he proposed to compel Huerta to explain the facts.

The department has been expecting a report from General Huerta, coupled with a full apology and an offer to punish the murderers and make reparation in any other way possible.

Since the first report of the barbarous murder of Parks reached Washington Secretary Garrison has maintained the position that this government should act and act quickly in order that the murderers might not escape.

Mr. Bryan has used his influence to thwart such a movement. He has urged the president to go slowly in the matter because of his fear that any overt act against Huerta at this time would put an end to the mediation plans.

The state department received further confirmation of the report made by the Brazilian minister at Mexico City that John R. Silliman, the American consul at Saltillo, is en route to Mexico City under guard of a federal detachment.

The alarmist reports concerning Silliman and especially those purporting to contain information that his life was in danger have never been accepted at their face value in official circles.

Mr. Silliman has a large plantation near Saltillo, and information has reached Washington that he had no desire to leave his property, because he was satisfied that he could remain in safety.

GIANINI'S MIND WEAK.

So Says Father, Testifying For Boy Charged With Murder.

Herkimer, N. Y., May 18.—Charles A. Gianini, father of Jean Gianini, the boy who is on trial for the murder of his teacher, Miss Lida Beecher, testified that his son was a victim of vicious habits and mentally weak. The knife with which it is alleged Jean committed the murder the father identified as one he had given to the boy four or five months before the tragedy.

Dr. Charles T. Weeks of New York, who attended Mrs. Gianini at the time of Jean's birth, testified that the mother was nervous and melancholy and the child under weight and emaciated. A copy of the certificate of the death of Mrs. Gianini showed that she died of alcoholic meningitis.

SAYS ROOSEVELT WON'T RUN

Lucien Bonheur's Version of the Colonel's Plans.

Paris, May 18.—Lucien Bonheur of New York, who is visiting here, is an intimate friend of Colonel Roosevelt.

He says that he has received word from a trustworthy source, although he refuses to say whether it is from the colonel himself, that the colonel positively will not be a candidate for the governorship of New York nor enter into any discussion concerning a possible candidate, but will do his best to see his views incorporated into the platform of the Progressive candidate.

COLORADO MUST CLEAR UP STRIKE

Wilson Criticises Governor Ammons and Legislature.

ASKS FOR PEACE IN MINES

Federal Troops, He Says, Cannot Assume Indefinite Responsibility For Maintaining Order—Not to Reopen Mines Until Tranquility Prevails.

Washington, May 18.—Governor Ammons, the state legislature and the people of Colorado were severely reprimanded by President Wilson in a telegram addressed to Governor Ammons.

The president issued his reprimand following the receipt of advices to the reply that the legislature of Colorado was about to adjourn without taking any action looking to the maintenance of order in the strike regions of that state. The president sent the following telegram to Governor Ammons:

"Am disturbed to hear of the probability of the adjournment of your legislature and feel bound to remind you that my constitutional obligations with regard to the maintenance of order in Colorado are not to be indefinitely continued by the inaction of the state legislature. The federal forces are there only until the state of Colorado has time and opportunity to resume complete sovereignty and control in the matter. I cannot conceive that the state is willing to forego her sovereignty or to throw herself entirely upon the government of the United States, and I am quite clear that she has no constitutional rights to do so when it is within the power of her legislature to take effective action."

Legislature Must Act.

President Wilson did not confer with any of his advisers before sending the foregoing warning to Coloradans. He got the word that the legislature was about to adjourn and without hesitation wired Governor Ammons. Then he conferred with Secretary of War Garrison, with the result that the federal government will not send any additional troops to Colorado, and the president will insist that the legislature take action in the premises.

The commanding officers of the federal troops in Colorado will receive instructions not to allow any mines to be reopened until complete tranquility prevails and all danger of any new outbreaks is past. The federal authorities refuse to take the responsibility for further fighting between the miners and the mine guards and militia.

President Wilson, it is given out, felt that Colorado is trying to force the United States to compel the mine owners and operators to arbitrate their troubles, but no special efforts will be made by the federal authorities to do so. Steps are now in progress to bring about conciliation, but unless Colorado does its share toward restoring order the federal authorities will withdraw entirely, according to the president's advisers.

Judge Harvey W. Whitehead, of Williamsport, arrived in town this morning and is assisting Judge Bell in civil court, hearing causes in which Judge Bell was interested as attorney before his election to the bench.

The jurors visited the scene of the fire this afternoon.

In Judge Bell's court the case of Lena Lane vs. Sandy township was the first attacked.

On Saturday judgment by default was awarded the plaintiff in the case of Collins vs. Hart.

THEY WANT PENROSE

His Defeat Would Make Pennsylvania a Dry State.

"We are against local option, prohibition and club licenses. Senator Penrose is the only candidate for United States senator who has declared against such measures."

These words conclude a four-page frantic appeal to Pennsylvania Germans to vote for Penrose at Tuesday's primary. The circular further says that all who speak Pennsylvania German, whether Republicans, Democrats, Progressives or Socialists, should stick together and fight for personal freedom.

Especial stress is laid on the fact that if Penrose and a legislature opposed to prohibition is not elected, it is only a question of a year or two when the whole state will be "dry."

The circular printed in Pennsylvania German, is issued under the caption of the "German-American Alliance of Pennsylvania."

PLANNING FOR THE 1914 CHAUTAUQUA

Clearfield Committee Will Meet to Reorganize This Week

One of the plans for Chautauqua during the coming summer, when it reaches here, according to A. H. Woodward chairman of local committee, is to decorate the big tent with pennants representing each of the 160 towns on the summer Chautauqua circuits.

All winter the Chautauqua association has been writing to the local committeemen to secure samples of these colors. In some cases the Chautauqua found that there were no special colors for the town and had to call a meeting of the mayor, the president of the board of trade,the president of the Womens' club, and the superintendent of schools and officers of other organizations, to meet with the chairmen of the Chautauqua committee to select colors. In many instances the High school colors were adopted.

In order to carry out this plan of decorating 14 big tents with pennants representing 160 towns about 2240 pennants were manufactured on a special order.

The committee has been receiving invice as to some of the new events that will appear at Chautauqua this summer, and it is expressing great pleasure over the prospect. The public will be made acquainted with the plans for 1914 through the officers of the Clearfield Chautauqua guarantors.

Chairman Woodward states that the Chautauqua committee will meet this week to reorganize and arrange for the opening of the Chautauqua in July.

A YOUNG GIRL DISAPP[illegible]

Lillian Craddock [illegible] Home in Curwensville

MAY HAVE COMMITTED [illegible]

Last Seen of Her Was When She Was Standing on the Railroad Bridge in the Lower End of River Town—Had Been Quarrelsome For Months.

Lillian Craddock,the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton [illegible] of Curwensville, has disappeared from her home and no trace of her present whereabouts has as yet been found.

Lillian was the daughter of [illegible] and Mrs. Craddock, the mother being dead and the father [illegible] unknown. The mother died when Lillian was a small child and she was taken into the family of Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn. When Mr. Vaughn died, Mr .and Mrs. Bloom [illegible] adopted Lillian, and the girl has been living with them up until her disappeared after dinner on the afternoon of last week.

Seen on N. Y. C. Bridge.

The last person to see Lillian in Curwensville on Friday was a school girl and at that time Lillian was standing on the New York Central railroad bridge, in the lower end of the town. She told the friend that "I may be back tonight, but I will not be back at all. They'll have a longer search for me this time than ever before."

From that time to this no trace of the girl has been found, and there is a suspicion that she jumped into the river and was drowned. The water in the river was very deep and swift at the time.

Made Diligent Search.

Clayton Bloom, as soon as he learned that the girl had gone from home started a search, which he has kept up ever since. As the circus was in Clearfield on Friday it is at first thought that Lillian had come here and joined the show, but a constable secured a search warrant, came to Clearfield and searched the circus tents without success. The homes of friends of the girl were also visited in the hope that she had been at one of them, but none of the people had seen her. Mr. C. Bloom will continue the search, and may have the river dragged after the water gets clear, while the banks on both sides will be closely watched.

Girl Had Acted Strangely.

Lillian had been acting queerly for some months .She had been away from her home upon several occasions and Mr. Bloom had to bring her up and take her home, but her former absences were not lengthy and she did not go far from home. About two months ago she became angry because her adopted father refused to permit her to go away from home to get work and she did not speak to him afterwards. She had refused to speak to her grandfather, Bishop Bloom, for a long time.

She was not a wayward child, but was discontented at home, although she was treated kindly by her foster parents.

Description of the Girl.

Lillian will be 15 years of age on January 11, 1915. She is freckled of face and about five feet, four inches in height. Her hair is brown-black. When a baby she scratched her forehead with her finger nails and left a mark which resembles either an M or N, which is plainly discernible.

When she left home Friday she wore a brown coat, the collar of which was of orange color, a common blue barred gingham dress and black shoes. She was bare headed.

Lillian may be known by three names—Lillian Vaughn, Lillian Craddock and Lillian Bloom.

Among those who went from this state to be married at Elkton, Md., last week were Charles E. Lamb, of Philadelphia, and Willa Wilson, of Clearfield.

WHY?

Why not make Clearfield the cleanest town in this part of the West Branch valley?

Good evening! Almost any evening now you can predict a frost the next morning.

VOTE YOUR CONVICTIONS.

The independent voter is convinced that there is no hope of the people coming into their own so long as the twin political machine controls the affairs of the state Under Republican rule Pennsylvania has been governed by special privilege. The people have been ignored and insulted by measures emanating from a Republican legislature. The big interests have controlled the legislature and the executive of this state, and the big interests find ready and willing agents in both the Republican and the Democratic parties.

Being convinced that it is useless to look to the two old parties to restore the government to the people, the voters should unite to defeat the candidates of both these old parties. Especially should those voters who in 1912 rallied to the cry of political reform and social and industrial justice decide to stand firmly by the candidates of the Washington party at the primaries tomorrow, both because this is the right thing to do and because it is the duty of these voters to rebuke Penroseism in both old parties by exhibiting the full strength of the forces opposed to Penroseism.

William Draper Lewis, candidate for governor, Gifford Pinchot, candidate for United States senator; A. S. Moulthrop, candidate for state senator, are sure of nomination, but they should be given such a vote as to prove to the Penrose machine managers that the Washington party means to continue its fight against special privileges, against disreputable politics, against political Bossism and against government by commission. Every man who knows that Penroseism is a menace to the liberties and welfare of the people should vote against the Republican and the Democratic candidates forthe two old parties are tarred with the same stick .

VOTE FOR THE BUDGET.

To the taxpayers of Clearfield the adoption of the budget prepared by borough council is of vast importance. Every property owner and renter knows that unless public improvements are made in Clearfield this town will retrograde Improvements cannot be made without money to pay the cost It is the desire of council that the budget be adopted by the people in order that the money needed to pave streets and do other work for the benefit of Clearfield may be procured by a bond issue.

Industrially Clearfield promises to forge ahead this summer. All of the manufactories in the town are prospering, and there is a likelihood that new industries of a substantial character will be acquired this year The people of this town are expecting to see a big business boom this summer and the municipality should be prepared to move with the procession This it cannot do unless it has the money with which to pay the bills The budget provides for the procuring of the money and if taxpayers approve the budget Clearfield will be materially improved in many ways

Any change that may be made in the fashions would be welcomed by mere man who has become weary of the modes of the past six months

Keep right on cleaning up your premises and you will be surprised that so much good could result from so small an amount of work.

Every Washington voter is expected to do his duty tomorrow.

In the meantime the trout are having a chance to grow

TO WASHINGTON VOTERS

County Chairman Barratt Issues Circular to Members of Party.

To the voters of the Washington party·

On Tuesday, May 19, the primary elections will be held, and the Washington party voters will have a chance to show that they are alive to the issues of the day by going to the polls and voting their party ticket.

The Tory press has been saying that there are only a few Washington voters left. The fact is that, while the enrollment is not what it should be, the party leaders are more enthusiastic than ever. The great commander, T R Roosevelt, has resumed his leadership of the party and will again lead our forces to victory in the coming campaign, which we will win in spite of all predictions to the contrary.

In Clearfield county we have a set of candidates above reproach and it is the duty of every voter who wishes to register his vote against the twin machine candidates to support the Washington party ticket, as that is the only way we have to make the machine leaders in both old political parties conduct themselves like honest men.

We expect every Washington party voter to do his duty next Tuesday.

JOHN W. BARRATT,
Chairman Clearfield County Washington Committee.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning scalding sensation and is very pro- irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is ery profuse fuse again, there is difficulty in voding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailment to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass o water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs whic then act normally again .

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble .

SALTILLO BATTLE TO BE DECISIVE ONE

Main Rebel Attack Is to Be From North.

Coahuila, Mexico, May 18.—All along the rebel advance line to the east and to the west of this little box car station the rebel riflemen are tuning up for the big battle of Saltillo, which is expected to open momentarily. The rebel base has been established here, only nine miles from the coveted town.

Since Thursday night the rebel artillery and cavalry have been detraining at Paredon, thirty miles north of Saltillo. The entire rebel army, numbering 20,000 men, was concentrated in Hipolite and was ordered south by train to Paredon, where the general detraining occurred, and a scouting force of 2,000 men swept the surrounding country to force all lurking federal outposts into the town.

The result of the scouting was the finding of 500 badly disorganized federals at Reata station on a forced march toward Saltillo. They are believed to have been the remnants of the Monclova garrison which evacuated before the advance of General Murgia. The Constitutionalist cavalry came upon the federals unawares, and the entire force was routed almost without a fight, for they immediately started toward Saltillo. They were cut to pieces as they ran.

After the advance base was established at Ramos Arispe, almost within cannon range of Saltillo, a few skirmishes occurred along the rebel advance line, but nothing of a serious nature. The federals seem to be pursuing their Torreon tactics of falling to oppose the rebel advance, depending upon their resistance within the town to win for them. When a party of federal scouts is located by the officers and a cavalry scouting party sent after them they retreat to the south and disappear in the foothills which surround Saltillo on the north and west.

WILSON AGAINST LABOR VIEW

To Oppose More Definite Exemption of Unions Under Trust Law.

Washington, May 18.—President Wilson will oppose the changes in the pending anti-trust bills, advocated by labor leaders, to make more explicit the exemption of labor unions from the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The subject was discussed at the White House at a conference between the president and Representatives Clayton, Webb and Carlin of the house judiciary committee. Mr. Wilson told them he agreed with them in thinking the Clayton bill, now before the house, went far enough.

The president was told that trades union members of the house were consulted before the framing of the Clayton bill and that they fully approved of its provisions at that time.

The entire subject of anti-trust legislation was gone over at the conference. The committee members told the president that after the special rule for the consideration of the bills was brought in on Tuesday little trouble was anticipated by administration supporters.

ORDERS 900 FREIGHT CARS.

Union Pacific Preparing to Move Record Winter Wheat Crop.

Omaha, Neb., May 18.—To assist in moving the biggest winter wheat crop ever produced west of the Missouri river, the Union Pacific railroad placed an order for 900 new freight cars. The cars are all steel and of a special pattern designed in the Omaha shops of the road. The contract went to a Davenport (Ia.) car building concern.

Four hundred of the new cars are of automobile type, opening at the ends, while the remaining 500 are of the regular box pattern for grain or other uses.

Points for Mothers

Playing Outdoors.

This is the time of year when the children need a great deal of watching, for they are apt to be tempted by fine days to plays that were meant for the days when the earth was warmer and the ground less damp than at present. They come in chilled, and if the chill is neglected there may be more serious trouble. Remember that the mental condition of a child has a great deal to do with his susceptibility to disease, and to scold or perhaps anger him will only make matters worse. Don't send him to bed crying, and, on the other hand, do not take too seriously his little ailments. "Let mother kiss it and make it well," the mother says to the smallest child, and generally the cure is effected. If mothers would only continue this cure after the child is a little older it might be better. Don't hurt the child's feelings by ignoring his little troubles, but make him feel that they are certain to be cured, and sometimes a dose of sugar and water or a bread pill has been known to work wonders. In the meantime do everything to make the child warm and clean and comfortable, and then if he must be scolded for getting wet or dirty let it be tomorrow, when he is not wet and dirty and in a good condition to take cold, if his mother will insist on depressing his spirits, among other things.

Play Hours.

There are other hours besides those spent in a schoolroom, other times when a child must be busy in some way, playing or just romping in an ecstasy of pure joy of living. Of course when possible out of doors is so much the best, but if windows are thrown wide open, space made for pillow fights, games of all sorts, laughing races, shouts of delight—can anything on earth be so worth while for the mother of live girls and boys? While children are gregarious and love companionship, they sometimes like to have some innate taste gratified. One may wish to copy the brilliant coloring of butterfly or blossom. Give him a box of paints and brush and he is happy. And so on through the list of likes and longings in the childish heart that every mother should study to gratify.

Cheerful Children.

Preach the gospel of cheerfulness early and late and don't encourage the morbid or emotional. Study your child and learn how to deal with him. It does no good to be unsympathetic with a child that is in a hysterical condition. Give him all your sympathy and let him feel safe and loved and cared for in your arms and then try to divert his attention from himself. Such a condition is generally a long time in approaching a crisis, and it is in the early stages that the mother can take charge with sweet cheerfulness. If treated sanely children so inclined will outgrow their morbidness, but if you attempt physical force with such a child you will probably make him sullen as well as morbid, and thrust in upon himself he will nurse his troubles and magnify your seeming indifference.

Lunches In Boxes.

There are many varieties among the lunch boxes sold in the shops. One is a flat, square box with a compartment containing a bottle of hot or cold liquids and a big compartment for sandwiches and other tidbits usual in the school lunch. Another is in the form of a camera, collapsible, so that it may be closed flat when it is not in use. There is a lunch box which looks like a music roll for small girls or larger ones. All these are covered with imitation or real leather. Then there are brown paper boxes of various sizes and shapes, strong and cheap, so that they can be replaced by new ones when they begin to look soiled or worn.

Use For Baby's "Pen."

After the baby has outgrown the use of the baby "pen" it can be used to keep a small portable heater out of reach of the baby or any older children. An oil stove that is set in the middle of one of these pens is comparatively safe. For a stationary coal stove that is close to a wall, cut one side of the pen away and then the other three sides can be put around the stove when needed. The children cannot then get at the fire.

Skipping Rope Exercises.

Skipping with a rope as young girls use it is essentially a form of dancing and lays a useful foundation for later developments which generally eventuate in the acquisition of an elegant ballroom style. Skipping rope days give the little girl her first steps in elasticity and favor the acquisition of a sinuosity and grace of movement that are by no means the least of her attractions in later life.

Convenient Pencil Sharpeners.

Provide each child with a pencil sharpener for school use. The best are the kind that screw firmly to the edge of a table. Many schools are equipped with these. The individual sharpeners that can be carried about in the pocket or bag are not always satisfactory. They have a way of becoming dulled in a very short time, and they are too cheap to be worth sharpening.

"LEFTY," DYING, ACCUSED BECKER

Widow Tells of Confession From Death House.

HELD ROSE RESPONSIBLE.

Mrs. Rosenberg Says That He Made Her Promise on the Day Before Execution That She Would Tell the Whole Truth.

New York, May 18.—"Lefty Louie" Rosenberg, who died in the electric chair on Easter Monday, April 13, for his part in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, confessed to his guilt before he died.

The confession was made to his twenty-year-old wife on the afternoon of Easter Sunday, and the condemned man named Charles Becker as the one responsible for the murder, according to the story she told a reporter. For the loss of his life he blamed equally Becker and the "squealer," Jack Rose.

"Lefty Louie" declared that only two of the men in the death house fired shots and that he was not one of them. The widow of "Lefty Louie"—who amazed the Becker defense by her testimony on the witness stand—told the whole story of the confession, much more than she was allowed to tell from the witness chair.

This is the second confession to come from the death house, and it appears to be but the forerunning news of startling revelations to come. For once there is the expectation that the death house is to yield up every secret whispered within its walls while the four gunmen and Charles Becker were there together.

May Discredit Cirofici Confession.

The confession of "Dago Frank" Cirofici was the first—and as reported it exculpated Becker. But now it is expected that Mary Cirofici, sister of "Dago Frank" will take the stand and by her testimony cloud that exoneration.

And there were secrets lodged by "Gyp the Blood" Horowitz in the breast of his young wife, and "Whitey" Lewis was visited up to the last by members of his family, who were much shaken in their calm on leaving the death house on the evening of Easter Sunday. Lillian Rosenberg went to the district attorney and offered her testimony to carry out the dying will of "Lefty Louie," and whence may come further strengthenia of the arm of the law, even the district attorney is not prepared to speculate.

His Dying Request.

"Everything that I testified to was the truth," said Mrs. Rosenberg. "I really feel sorry for Becker. But I had to tell the truth. I promised my husband that I would. It was the dying request of Louis.

"On the Sunday before my husband died he told me that Becker and Rose were responsible for his life, and I promised him I would testify to everything I had heard.

"He said that during the time Becker was with him in the death house Becker sent notes to him and the boys giving them false hopes.

"He would send the notes in a book as if lending the book to the boys to read. The keepers would not notice the notes, and Becker would always promise in these notes that the boys would get out.

"Lewis told me that he did not shoot Rosenthal. He said two of the other boys did. He told me their names, but I will not tell who they were. He said he was afraid of Becker and that's why he got the other boys to kill Rosenthal."

DEATHS OF A DAY.

Mrs. Martha Ann Wadsworth, widow of Charles D. Wadsworth and a daughter of the late William Brummel, the candy manufacturer, died at her residence, 135 Rogers avenue, Brooklyn, aged eighty-two years.

William Edward Austin, an Orange hat manufacturer, died Friday night at his home, 18 Conover terrace, Orange, N. J. He was a member of the Corinthian lodge No. 57, F. and A. M., and Hillside council Royal Arcanum of Orange.

HIGHWAYS GRAFT QUIZ.

Grand Jury to Investigate Charges Against Two Contracting Firms.

Glens Falls, N. Y., May 18.—An investigation by a grand jury of the graft charges made against the Flood and Van Wirt Construction company of Hudson Falls and the John J. Herlihy Construction company of this city in connection with the resurfacing of eighteen miles of highways in Warren county will begin Monday at Lake George. It is expected the grand jury will require about two weeks for the task, which results from investigation made by James W. Osborne.

The two companies and their bondsmen have been made defendants in actions commenced by Attorney General Carmody to recover for their failure to perform the work according to contract. The work on the two roads which is now to be investigated, was done during the Dix administration.

SERVICE RESTORED

Prompt Adjustment of TroubleCaused by Glen Campbell Fire.

On Friday morning at 3 o'clock the officers of the Huntingdon & Clearfield Telephone company were advised of the fire at Glen Campbell, and from that hour until 5 o'clock when the Glen Campbell exchange went out of business, the Clearfield office was in constant communication with the scene of the trouble. At 5 o'clock the report was that it looked as if the building in which the exchange was located would go, and, while this message was being received the equipment at Glen Campbell went out of service.

Activities were immediately begun at Clearfield by calling out the maintenance men, and at 6.30 the repair crew was on the way to Glen Campbell in the company's service car. Arriving at Glen Campbell it was found that the entire line was out for a distance of about one city block. Orders were placed for poles and other materials needed and the work of restoring the service was begun, and by working night and day the service on the Glen Campbell exchange was completely restored Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Absolutely no expense was spared in restoring the service and the employees who performed the work have reason to feel proud of the record made and the patrons of the H. & C. have reason to feel thankful that they were without service for so short a time.
